Woodring Favors Full Test Of Voluntary Enrollment For Army Duty

MAJOR FIGHT GROWING

Maloney Compromise May Be Backed; General Parsons To Be Summoned

WASHINGTON, August 5—Overriding a demand for further consideration, the senate military affairs committee today approved by a vote of 12 to 3 President Roosevelt's military conscription bill, making 12,000,000 men between the ages of 21 to 31 liable to a year's military training.

WASHINGTON, August 5—Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., said today he will demand the Senate Military Affairs committee summon former Secretary of War Woodring to testify on his voluntary enlistment program as a substitute for military conscription.

Johnson will make his request as the committee neared a final vote on the conscription bill and the senate began debate on authority to the President to mobilize the National Guard for a year's training.

Johnson, a leader of the strong bipartisan bloc fighting conscription, emphasized the necessity of the committee giving full consideration to Woodring's proposals for continuation of the voluntary system through a one year enlistment period for the army at $30 per month.

"Former Secretary of War Woodring, because of his long association with the War Department, is in a better position than any other man in the United States to give the committee information concerning its personnel requirements," Johnson said.

"The committee would be derelict in its duties if it failed to hear this outstanding authority concern-

In Cabinet Job

In a reshuffling of Great Britain's war cabinet, Prime Minister Winston Churchill invited Lord Beaverbrook, present minister of aircraft production, to join the inner war cabinet.

It is rumored he may replace Neville Chamberlain, who is now hospitalized, as lord president of the council.

HITLER'S PAMPHLETS AID BRITISH RED CROSS FUND

LONDON, August 5—Thanks to Adolf Hitler's printing press and war planes, the British Red Cross today won another veritable windfall.

Thousands of Nazi pamphlets containing transcripts of the fuhrer's "final peace offer" were found in northeastern England this morning.

Most of them are expected to find their way into the hands of the Red Cross, which has been auctioning them off for high prices as "curio pieces" and using the proceeds for relief work.

HIT-SKIP AUTO SOUGHT AS AGED MAN IS KILLED

William H. Mettler, 76, Of Near County Line, Found Lying Along Road

BODY PULLED 65 FEET

State Traffic Check For Weekend Finds Many Persons Dead

Ross County authorities continued to search Monday for a hit-skip autoist who struck and killed William H. Mettler, 76, a resident of Route 23 near the Pickaway-Ross County line. Mr. Mettler's body was found beside Route 159, one mile north of the Route 23 junction, Saturday at 11:15 p. m.

The body was discovered by William Gearhart of Kingston, and it was identified by Joe Neighbour of Hopetown who arrived at the scene a short time later.

Mr. Mettler was apparently dragged 65 feet since clothing and parts of his body were found along the road for that distance.

Ross County sheriff's deputies believe that Mr. Mettler was hit by a car traveling toward Kingston. The time of the mishap has not been determined but Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lott of Kingston told authorities they had seen Mr. Mettler in Chillicothe an hour before the body was found.

The hit-skip victim was a brother of Jack Mettler, widely known Pickaway Township farmer. He was born March 3, 1864, a son of George and Lydia Unger Mettler.

Surviving are his widow, Magdalena, a son and the brother.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Whitsel Funeral Home, Kingston, the Rev. F. J. Batterson officiating, with burial in Crouse Chapel Cemetery.

Seven persons met their death in Ohio traffic accidents over the weekend, a survey disclosed today.

In a freak accident at Willowick, east of Cleveland, Alford R. Hampe, 32, cellist with a Cleveland orchestra, was killed instantly when he slipped and fell while walking around the rear of his automobile, parked in a driveway. His head struck the bumper, fracturing his skull.

In Avon Lake Mrs. Martha Grechney, 52, of Newburgh Heights, was killed instantly when struck by an automobile as she ran across Lake Road, and in Cleveland Charles Austin, 60, died of injuries received Saturday in a similar accident.

Twelve-year-old Eugene Martin, of Columbus, was killed near Chillicothe when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a truck.

Walter Russell, of Troy, died at Springfield of injuries received early Sunday in an auto accident two miles west of Thackery, in Champaign County.

George Baker, 69-year-old Lebanon farmer, was killed when struck by an automobile as he walked along a highway near his home.

An elderly woman, as yet unidentified, was fatally injured when the automobile in which she was riding skidded on a wet paving, struck a culvert and went over a 20-foot embankment at Cincinnati.

Mrs. Eleanor Frances Hickney about 45, of Wheeling, W. Va., was seriously injured. It was believed the victim was Mrs. Hickney's mother.

Leaving the state house, he was to pause long enough at the east entrance to be seen by an expected crowd of 10,000 for which police arrangements had been made.

After lunch Willkie was to hold a press conference for editors of Iowa daily papers with a session for weekly paper editors following.

During the afternoon he was to meet Iowa farmers in groups and individually.

No plans for the evening were scheduled although Mr. and Mrs. Willkie had invitations to attend a Willkie Day dance sponsored by a local Republican organization.

County relief costs, not including WPA and surplus commodities, were lower during July than they have been for the last five years, Relief Director Delos Marcy said Monday. Relief expenses for the month were $2,877.54 while those for June were $3,414.46 and for July, 1939, $3,095.91.

West Coast Grand Jury Investigates 'Red' Ring Plotting Assassinations

LOS ANGELES, August 5—In what may be the greatest fifth-column expose yet unearthed in the United States, District Attorney Buron Fitts today declared that his office had uncovered a Communist murder ring planning the assassinations of prominent American figures and the overthrow of the government.

It was learned that one of the witnesses will tell of a Hollywood meeting where it was plotted that when the government is overthrown Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, will be given a "chance to join the party" or be shot.

Details of the asserted plot against the government and the murders were not revealed, but Fitts announced that the entire matter will be presented to the Los Angeles County Grand Jury tomorrow morning.

Investigation of a five-year-old slaying resulted in the uncovering of the sensational reactionary plot, Fitts reported. He said that evidence to be given by a parade of secret witnesses before the jury will undoubtedly disclose ramifications of the Communist element throughout southern California and possibly the Pacific Coast.

1935 Crime Checked

The plot was charged coincident with announcement of the arrest of Brittain Webster, 27-year-old asserted Communist, in San Pedro in connection with the murder of John R. Riley, a member of the Sailors' Union who died of a beating during bitter waterfront strife in 1935.

Riley was a member of a group of unionists who were pledged to ferret out members of the Communist party within the ranks of labor. He was slain in a waterfront free-for-all.

The district attorney's office said Webster was arrested Saturday and was booked at the Beverly Hills jail on a charge of murder after a secret complaint was obtained for his arrest and the arrest of four other suspects. The others sought are Claude R. Smallman, Edward T. Jeffries, Frank Lockhart and a man known as "Pegleg" Taylor, Fitts said.

In addition, it was announced, a score of Communists and Communist sympathizers were sought for questioning in San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

"Twenty-two months ago we established in San Pedro an undercover headquarters for the purpose of developing information on the activities of the Communists in Los Angeles County," Fitts said.

"The group assigned by Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz and myself have correlated and brought together the information with the result that we are now going to the grand jury."

He revealed that investigators are working on similar slayings in northern California cities and in the Northwest.

F. D. R. PLANNING VISITS TO BASES IN EASTERN AREA

HYDE PARK, N. Y., August 5—In the privacy of his Hudson Valley home, President Roosevelt today plotted a second swing to see how fast American defenses are reaching "total preparedness" against any possible attack.

On what was billed as a strictly non-political tour, the President was expected to inspect northeastern defenses before the week was out in line with his announced policy of making a careful, first-hand study of progress on the multi-billion dollar defense program.

Lacking any official announcement, it was believed Mr. Roosevelt might inspect the submarine base at New London, Conn., and possibly the harbor defenses of New York City the latter part of the week.

The President, by his own announcement, intends to make a comprehensive survey of navy yards, private ship yards, federal arsenals and ordnance plants, and vital army and navy posts between now and election day.

STILL frightened, a little survivor of a major sea disaster clutches her toys and faces the camera after arrival in London. She was on board the French liner Meknes which was returning naval officers and men to France when it was torpedoed and sunk in the Channel by a Nazi torpedo boat. More than 300 died.

CAR TAKEN FROM LOT AT EAGLES LODGE IN CRASH

With a car he is alleged to have taken from the Eagles' parking lot on East Main Street, Roscoe Ramey, Route 3, Circleville, collided with a truck on Route 23, one-half mile north of Little Walnut Creek, at 8:30 p. m. Sunday.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver reported that the accident happened as the driver of the 1½ ton truck, Floyd Lair, 26, of Cynthia, Kentucky, was pulling off the side of the road because of engine trouble. As Ramey attempted to pass the truck, traffic coming from the opposite direction forced him to cut back into his own lane, striking the left rear corner of the truck.

J. L. Welch, Route 2, Ashville, owner of the car, came from the Eagles' Lodge shortly before midnight and noticed his car was missing. Employees at the parking lot identified Ramey as the man who had taken the car and notified the sheriff. Deputy Weaver arrested Ramey at his home shortly before midnight. Further evidence against Ramey was an injured right hand, which Lair claimed Ramey had received when he hit the truck.

He is being held in County Jail Monday, although yet no charges have been filed against him.

WESTRICK IN WASHINGTON TO LEARN HIS STATUS

NEW YORK, August 5—Dr. Gerhard Alois Westrick, commercial counselor to the German embassy, was to go to Washington today reportedly for a conference with German diplomatic officials concerning his future status.

It was reported unofficially that the question of whether or not Dr. Westrick's usefulness in this country had been impaired by the publicity following the discovery that he was living in suburban Scarsdale and publication of the names of some of his visitors was to be discussed with higher German diplomatic officials in Washington.

Nine Nationals Under Arrest In Various Parts Of Empire; Situation Becoming Worse; Nipponese Awaiting Details

TOKYO, August 5—Outright severance of diplomatic relations with Great Britain unless the official attitude toward arrest of Japanese nationals shows more "sincerity" was threatened today by Japan.

"Drastic measures" will be forthcoming, Japan has informed the British government, if the tense situation revolving around the arrests "becomes worse," it was authoritatively stated.

Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka has decided to lodge a strong protest demanding the immediate release of Japanese nationals plus the guarantee that no further "unlawful apprehensions" will be made. Authoritative sources declared the foreign office apparently plans to renounce diplomatic relations unless the tension is soon alleviated.

One "vigorous protest" over the case of a Japanese national preceded by but a few hours the newest revelation of the foreign office's attitude.

The protest was lodged by the Japanese consul at Hong Kong over the arrest of Getero Yamaguchi, prominent industrialist who was among nine Japanese citizens held by British authorities in various parts of the Empire.

With regard to the other arrests, Japan's foreign office spokesman maintained what the official Japanese News Agency Domei characterized as an "ominous silence" when questioned during his regular press conference.

Details Awaited

A "definite attitude" will be taken by the foreign office only when details of the arrests of Japanese citizens in England are received from the London embassy, an official spokesman declared.

Meanwhile, official dispatches reaching Tokyo claimed a total of nine Japanese nationals had been arrested in the British Empire.

Asked whether Japan would pursue a policy designed to prevent further aggravation of Anglo-Japanese relations, the spokesman replied:

"I cannot say definitely."

A factional meeting at Osaka adopted a resolution that Tokyo "annihilate the influence of outrageous Britain." A copy of the resolution was telegraphed to British Ambassador Sir Robert Craigh.

The meeting urged the Japanese government to take a strong stand against the British.

Simultaneously the Kobe Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution recommending that Britain "be ordered" to reconsider her attitude toward Japan.

Premier, Emperor Meet

Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye was received by Emperor Hirohito at the latter's country residence at Hayama. They were reported to have discussed the Anglo-Japanese situation.

LONDON, August 5—Great Britain moved nearer to a showdown with Japan today as additional arrests brought the number of Japanese citizens held in various parts of the Empire to nine.

WAR DOES COST, CHECK OF TAX FIGURES SHOWS

CHICAGO, August 5—War is an expensive institution, figures released by the Federation of Tax Administrators showed today.

The federation published a chart of expenditures in the United States, Canada and Great Britain, comparing per capita costs of government in the fiscal year 1936-37 and 1940-41, and the figures showed per capita taxes went from $40 to $50 in the United States, from $35 to $61 in Canada, and from $81 to $135 in Great Britain.

Per capita debt rose from $263 to $361 in the United States, from $316 to $387 in Canada, and from $703 to $1,025 in Great Britain.

Although figures from Germany were insufficient for the federation to break them down as carefully, it was estimated that 47 percent of the national income was absorbed by taxes during the fiscal year 1938-39.

BRITAIN CLAIMS NEW VICTORIES BY AIR FORCES

Fast Spitfires Bring Down Three Messerschmitts In Channel Dog-Fight

MORE NAZI AREAS HIT

London Declares Numerous Vital Centers Blasted By R. A. F. Crews

LONDON, August 5—A new series of successes for the fast and ultra-powerful Spitfire planes of the Royal Air Force were announced by the British air ministry today in a communique asserting that at least three German Messerschmitts crashed in the English Channel during dog-fights.

Several separate encounters were described by the ministry, which said that only one British plane was lost. The battles were cited as proof of the contention that the Spitfires, each equipped with eight machine-guns, are far superior to the much-vaunted German Messerschmitts.

Of the latter, two classes are in general use. The smaller carry four machine-guns and one cannon, while the larger, known as Messerschmitt 110, have four forward guns, two rear guns and two cannons.

Nine Spitfires, according to the announcement, encountered five Messerschmitts patrolling the English Channel four miles north of Calais.

Their 72 machine-guns blazing fire, the Britons launched a surprise attack. The squadron-leader poured a long burst into one of the German planes, which was seen to crash into the sea, and fired two bursts at a second Messerschmitt.

The latter was seen to spiral smoking toward the sea, but no actual crash was witnessed so the victory was not claimed.

A sergeant-pilot in the British squadron caught another Messerschmitt with a full burst and saw it plummet into the waves. Another British pilot chased a third German inland over France and saw pieces shatter from the port wing as the enemy fell away. In

TOWNSEND ASKS HIS FOLLOWERS TO AID WILLKIE

SANDUSKY, August 5—A plea for Republican victory in November, as the better of two evils, and the threat of a third party were left with more than 5,000 Ohio Townsend club members by Dr. F. E. Townsend today.

Speaking at the all-Ohio Townsend Club rally at Cedar Point, the founder of the $200-a-month pension plan said that Republican victory would end "seven years of maladministration in Washington."

"The Republican record," Dr. Townsend declared, "is just as black as the Democratic, but we must have a business man at the head of this government. Let's don't ask for a man with a gold spoon in his mouth who never ran any business of his own and never succeeded in anything he attempted."

Dr. Townsend said that the machinery was not set up for a third party that could be successful this year, but if the Republicans "are elected this fall, and go back on their word," a new party could be formed that could "elect anyone president we want to."

The candidacy of President Roosevelt for a third term and the proposed conscription bill both were described by Dr. Townsend as steps "toward totalitarianism."

DONOVAN'S TRIP ABROAD CAUSES CONCERN IN EAST

NEW YORK, August 5—Arriving as the sole passenger on the camouflaged British flying boat, Clare, Col. William J. Donovan, war-time commander of the "fighting Sixty-Ninth," left behind him here today intense speculation on the nature of the secret mission for the Navy Department which had taken him abroad.

Declining to discuss any phase of his flying journey and laughing off the possibility that he had discussed turning over old U. S. warships to the British, Col. Donovan said: "I went abroad for the secretary of the navy and you'll have to ask him." Earlier, at the Boucherville seaplane base near Montreal, he told Canadian newsmen: "I had a job to do in London for the U. S. government and I did it."

The Clare, camouflaged gray-green and blue, glided to a stop at the La Guardia field seaplane base at 7:35 last night. Donovan was guarded by G-men as he departed to depart immediately for Washington. The Clare made the flight from Foynes, Ireland, to Boucherville in 16 hours including a two-hour stop at Botwood, Newfoundland.

At Montreal, the two other passengers, R. C. Fahey, a leading British plane manufacturer, and Geoffrey Cunliffe, a British air ministry official, debarked, secretive as the nature of their missions.

Atlantic Airways, Ltd., a British company, announced the Clare was inaugurating regular weekly flights.

Details Awaited

A "definite attitude" will be taken by the foreign office only when details of the arrests of Japanese citizens in England are received from the London embassy, an official spokesman declared.

Meanwhile, official dispatches reaching Tokyo claimed a total of nine Japanese nationals had been arrested in the British Empire.

Asked whether Japan would pursue a policy designed to prevent further aggravation of Anglo-Japanese relations, the spokesman replied:

"I cannot say definitely."

A factional meeting at Osaka adopted a resolution that Tokyo "annihilate the influence of outrageous Britain." A copy of the resolution was telegraphed to British Ambassador Sir Robert Craigh.

The meeting urged the Japanese government to take a strong stand against the British.

Simultaneously the Kobe Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution recommending that Britain "be ordered" to reconsider her attitude toward Japan.

Premier, Emperor Meet

Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye was received by Emperor Hirohito at the latter's country residence at Hayama. They were reported to have discussed the Anglo-Japanese situation.

LONDON, August 5—Great Britain moved nearer to a showdown with Japan today as additional arrests bought the number of Japanese citizens held in various parts of the Empire.

WAR DOES COST, CHECK OF TAX FIGURES SHOWS

CHICAGO, August 5—War is an expensive institution, figures released by the Federation of Tax Administrators showed today.

The federation published a chart of expenditures in the United States, Canada and Great Britain, comparing per capita costs of government in the fiscal year 1936-37 and 1940-41, and the figures showed per capita taxes went from $40 to $50 in the United States, from $35 to $61 in Canada, and from $81 to $135 in Great Britain.

Per capita expenditures, meanwhile, increased from $66 to $104 in the United States, $48 to $117 in Canada, and $93 to $354 in Great Britain.

Per capita debt rose from $263 to $361 in the United States, from $316 to $387 in Canada, and from $703 to $1,025 in Great Britain. Although figures from Germany were insufficient for the federation to break them down as carefully, it was estimated that 47 percent of the national income was absorbed by taxes during the fiscal year 1935-39.

London Declares Numerous Vital Centers Blasted By R. A. F. Crews

LONDON, August 5—A new series of successes for the fast and ultra-powerful Spitfire planes of the Royal Air Force were announced by the British air ministry today in a communique asserting that at least three German Messerschmitts crashed in the English Channel during dog-fights.

Several separate encounters were described by the ministry, which said that only one British plane was lost. The battles were cited as proof of the contention that the Spitfires, each equipped with eight machine-guns, are far superior to the much-vaunted German Messerschmitts.

Of the latter, two classes are in general use. The smaller carry four machine-guns and one cannon, while the larger, known as Messerschmitt 110, have four forward guns, two rear guns and two cannons.

Nine Spitfires, according to the announcement, encountered five Messerschmitts patrolling the English Channel four miles north of Calais.

Their 72 machine-guns blazing fire, the Britons launched a surprise attack. The squadron-leader poured a long burst into one of the German planes, which was seen to crash into the sea, and fired two bursts at a second Messerschmitt.

The latter was seen to spiral smoking toward the sea, but no actual crash was witnessed so the victory was not claimed.

A sergeant-pilot in the British squadron caught another Messerschmitt with a full burst and saw it plummet into the waves. Another British pilot chased a third German inland over France and saw pieces shatter from the port wing as the enemy fell away. In (Continued on Page Two)

TOWNSEND ASKS HIS FOLLOWERS TO AID WILLKIE

SANDUSKY, August 5—A plea for Republican victory in November, as the better of two evils, and the threat of a third party were left with more than 5,000 Ohio Townsend club members by Dr. F. E. Townsend today. Speaking at the all-Ohio Townsend Club rally at Cedar Point, the founder of the $200-a-month pension plan said that Republican victory would end "seven years of maladministration in Washington."

"The Republican record," Dr. Townsend declared, "is just as black as the Democratic, but we must have a business man at the head of this government. Let's don't ask for a man with a gold spoon in his mouth who never ran any business of his own and never succeeded in anything he attempted."

Dr. Townsend said that the machinery was not set up for a third party that could be successful this year, but if the Republicans "are elected this fall, and go back on their word," a new party could be formed that would "elect anyone president we want to."

The candidacy of President Roosevelt for a third term and the proposed conscription bill both were described by Dr. Townsend as steps "toward totalitarianism."

DES MOINES, Iowa, August 5—From the farm states of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, South Dakota, Colorado, Missouri, North Dakota and Nebraska, farmers, farm leaders and agricultural administrators gathered here today to give Wendell Willkie their views for his presidential campaign.

An absentee farmer himself with five properties in Indiana, the Republican candidate came to Des Moines at the invitation of Governor George Wilson to solicit the opinions of men who deal every day with the problems of the farm either as administrators or working farmers.

Included in the long list of agriculturists were six governors who know the political angles of

The appearance of Woodring, who recently resigned because of his set opinions on national defense, would be "advantageous" to national defense, and "an intelligent preparedness," Johnson added.

Johnson will also request the committee to call Maj. Gen. James K. Parsons, quoted as declaring "America can be defended by an army of moderate size." Parsons was reported as saying: "There are alarmists who think we are wide open to attack. We are not. They are merely the victims of nightmares and ignorance. Such people are dangerous."

Senate administration leaders, admitting the conscription issue is shaping into one of the biggest congressional battles in years, hoped to pass the guard mobilization legislation with little opposition. Senate Majority Leader Barkley predicted a final vote before nightfall.

Sen. Wheeler (D), Mont., warned however, that the isolationist bloc may offer the Woodring proposal as an amendment to the guard bill.

Although the committee has opposed attempts to further limit the conscription program, some senators predict a compromise will be necessary before it is enacted.

12 Millions To Be Called

There is strong opposition to the passage of any kind of conscription bill in an election year. The present measure would require 12,000,000 men between 21 and 31 to register. They would become liable for a year's training in the nation's armed forces.

Much attention was being given the Maloney compromise proposal. It would set up the machinery for conscription, but postpone until January 1 the calling of the draft to give voluntary enlistment additional trial. This follows the suggestion by Woodring in his letter to Sen. Vandenberg (R), Mich.

"I cannot see the need of compulsory military training at this time, and I should like to see the bill amended so that it does not become effective until, and after, the chief of staff of the U. S. Army has first advised the senate in writing that the voluntary system has completely broken down," Woodring said.

EXPLORER COOK DIES OF STROKE AT AGE OF 77

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., August 5—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explorer, lecturer and a principal in the Cook-Pearry dispute over discovery of the North Pole, died today in New Rochelle Hospital.

He had been a patient at the institution only since July 24, but as long ago as May 3 suffered an apoplectic stroke and at that time was taken to United Hospital in nearby Portchester for treatment.

Doctor Cook, who was 77, encompassed in his lifetime the most amazing metamorphosis of public world-wide emotion—as has occurred since the turn of the century.

Few men indeed, and none to the same extent in recent years, skyrocketed to fame, then dipped to notoriety, and finally tobogganed to condemnation and obscurity as did Doctor Cook after his claim to discovery of the North Pole.

Doctor Cook first tasted the heady drug of public applause in 1896 when he announced a successful ascension of the hitherto-unconquered Mount McKinley. Eventually his feat was questioned, first politely, later brusquely, but the small zephyr of derision then aroused was as nothing to the storm that broke following his claim to discovery of the North Pole.

'SCARLETT'S' BOY FRIEND FREE; WIFE GETS DECREE

LONDON, August 5—A final divorce decree obtained against Laurence Olivier was granted today to Jill Esmond, English actress.

In her original suit, Miss Esmond named Vivien Leigh, star of "Gone With the Wind," as correspondent.

Miss Leigh was divorced last winter by her lawyer husband who named Olivier as correspondent. Granting of the final decree to Miss Esmond leaves both her and Olivier free to marry, but Miss Leigh will not be free to marry again until after August 9 when her husband may apply for a final decree.

this case also, no actual crash was witnessed.

One Spitfire was lost in the course of this engagement.

Others Chased Home

Meanwhile, a group of Spitfires caught a detachment of between 15 and 20 Messerschmitts on the English side of the channel. One was brought down and the others chased home within four minutes of the British takeoff, the announcement said.

Fighting planes of both nations went into action off the coast after Nazi raiders lashed at England during the night, but failed to cause serious damage, according to the air ministry. Renewed action over England broke out in the wake of damaging British air attacks on German bases and concentrations.

An unofficial description of the British raids, given out by the air ministry to supplement the communique, said several docks at Kiel were set on fire by British bombs and that British bombers also raided important sources of German synthetic oil supplies, setting fire to the huge plant at Monheim.

The British also bombed German-held airbases in France and Holland and also machine-gunned a convoy of military trucks at Abbeville.

During the night of Saturday-Sunday, the air ministry added, German oil tanks at Rotterdam and oil plants at Bottrop, Gelsenkirchen and Monheim were bombed.

Raid Lines Damaged

In addition railroad communications were attacked in the industrial areas of Westphalia, the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

Indicating that the British Mediterranean fleet is also carrying the war to Italian shores, it was disclosed that British naval warplanes struck a heavy blow against Italy's base at Gagliari on the island of Sardinia, destroying Italian planes, hangars and other buildings.

A British admiralty communique added that Italian air attacks on British warships off Sardinia were repelled with the loss of at least three and probably four Italian craft.

BERLIN, August 5—German planes sank one merchant ship and bombed shipyards, oil depots and anti-aircraft batteries in the British Isles, the German high command announced in a military communique today.

"The German air force reconnoitered England, Scotland and regional waters," the war bulletin said. "One merchant ship was sunk about 60 miles southwest of Pembroke in St. George channel.

"Last night the air force bombed the Sheerness shipyards and the North Killinghome oil depots and anti-aircraft positions at Thameshaven.

"Some R. A. F. planes dropped a number of bombs on western Germany, causing minor damage and setting fire to a farm in the Borken district. One civilian was killed."

NEW YORK, August 5—A British naval squadron of 19 ships sailed from Gibraltar Saturday in a westerly direction, according to a Berlin radio broadcast picked up by the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York today.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. RIES, O. S. U. floriculturist

QUESTION: Are you really asked these questions or do you make them up?

ANSWER: Judging from the number of times I am asked this question, apparently many of you feel that I make these questions up. If you could see the number of letters I receive each week you would realize that I do not have to make them up. If in addition to this you could follow me around and attend my various meetings in the course of a week, in a different county each day, and hear the dozens of questions asked, you would realize that these are bona fide questions which have been asked.

Where the questions have been asked by mail I am adopting the policy of giving the initials of the person asking and the town. Where they are asked in meetings, since it has not always been practical to stop and ask "What's your name?" I am listing them without any initials or places.

QUESTION: The back 25 feet of my yard is shaded by a number of small shade trees so that it is difficult to grow grass. What would you recommend that I could plant in this shade besides some of our native wild flowers?—Mrs. S. Elyria.

ANSWER: If you merely wish to cover the ground I would recommend the use of English ivy, periwinkle (myrtle) or even one of the forms of wintercreeper (Euonymus radicans coloratus). All of these would be evergreen. Plants which would not be evergreen but would thrive would be sweet woodruff, Canada violets, common violets, Ajuga and maiden pink or you could use a variety of lower growing shade-tolerant perennials such as hardy primroses, lungwort (Pulmonaria), dwarf bleeding heart, hardy candy-tuft, or one of the dwarf veronicas.

QUESTION: What broadleaved evergreen would you recommend that I use at the corner of my house that is one story high?

ANSWER: I believe one of the best plants you could use for this would be the evergreen firethorn or Pyracantha. Another possibility, although you would have to pinch it after it got up to the desired height, would be the American holly. If you are in an acid soil section of the state and the place was partially shaded and protected from the wind you would find the rhododendron satisfactory.

QUESTION: There is one corner of my yard with a brick garage to the north and east and with a large soft maple in the middle of it. This is an area only about 15 by 20 feet. Nothing that I plant seems to grow. Could you recommend anything?—Mrs. W. C. Lorain.

ANSWER: If you are willing to water it the first season until the plants become established, I am sure you would find one of the several varieties of the wintercreeper would not only give you an evergreen plant on the ground but would also climb and cling to the brick walls of the garage. You might use the so-called evergreen bittersweet, Euonymus radicans vegetus, or the parent type, Euonymus radicans. In the southern half of the state you would find English ivy would give a delightful effect.

QUESTION: I want to put a screen between my perennial border and my neighbor's yard but since my lot is narrow I do not have room for shrubs and feel I do not want to trim a hedge. What vine could you recommend that I could use on a trellis?

ANSWER: Although most people for a trellis of this sort would use climbing roses, or one of the many varieties of Clematis such as Clematis montana, Clematis

one plant to the other. This may be up to 200 feet.
QUESTION: Just what is the value and use of the Dutchman's pipe vine?
ANSWER: The Dutchman's pipe is a fairly fast growing vine with quite large leaves. Usually, if it thrives at all, it produces such tremendously heavy foliage that it serves as a complete screen and windbreak. Consequently, it is confined to those porches where you wish to have screen or to a trellis or fence which you wish to have heavily covered with foliage. It is perfectly hardy. It's flowers, which are underneath the leaves, are, as the name indicates, representative of a Dutchman's pipe.

"I cannot see the need of compulsory military training at this time, and I should like to see the bill amended so that it does not become effective until, and after, the chief of staff of the U. S. Army has first advised the senate in writing that the voluntary system has completely broken down," Woodring said.

EXPLORER COOK DIES OF STROKE AT AGE OF 77

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., August 5—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explorer, lecturer and a principal in the Cook-Pearry dispute over discovery of the North Pole, died today in New Rochelle Hospital.

He had been a patient at the institution only since July 24, but as long ago as May 3 suffered an apoplectic stroke and at that time was taken to United Hospital in nearby Portchester for treatment.

Doctor Cook, who was 77, encompassed in his lifetime the most amazing metamorphosis of public world-wide emotion—as has occurred since the turn of the century.

Few men indeed, and none to the same extent in recent years, skyrocketed to fame, then dipped to notoriety, and finally bogged down to condemnation and obscurity as did Doctor Cook after his claim to discovery of the North Pole.

Doctor Cook first tasted the heady drug of public applause in 1896 when he announced a successful ascension of the hitherto-unconquered Mount McKinley. Eventually his feat was questioned, first politely, later brusquely, but the small zephyr of derision then aroused was as nothing to the storm that broke following his claim to discovery of the North Pole.

'SCARLETT'S' BOY FRIEND FREE; WIFE GETS DECREE

LONDON, August 5—A final divorce decree obtained against Laurence Olivier was granted today to Jill Esmond, English actress.

In her original suit, Miss Esmond named Vivien Leigh, star of "Gone With the Wind," as correspondent.

Miss Leigh was divorced last winter by her lawyer husband who named Olivier as correspondent.

Granting of the final decree to Miss Esmond leaves both her and Olivier free to marry, but Miss Leigh will not be free to marry again until after August 9 when her husband may apply for a final decree.

this case also, no actual crash was witnessed.

One Spitfire was lost in the course of this engagement.

Others Chased Home

Meanwhile, a group of Spitfires caught a detachment of between 15 and 20 Messerschmitts on the English side of the channel. One was brought down and the others chased home within four minutes of the British takeoff, the announcement said.

Fighting planes of both nations went into action off the coast after Nazi raiders lashed at England during the night, but failed to cause serious damage, according to the air ministry. Renewed action over England broke out in the wake of damaging British air attacks on German bases and concentrations.

An unofficial description of the British raids, given out by the air ministry to supplement the communique, said several docks at Kiel were set on fire by British bombs and that British bombers also raided important sources of German synthetic oil supplies, setting fire to the huge plant at Monheim.

The British also bombed German-held airdromes in France and Holland and also machine-gunned a convoy of military trucks at Abbeville.

During the night of Saturday-Sunday, the air ministry added, German oil tanks at Rotterdam and oil plants at Bottrop, Gelsenkirchen and Monheim were bombed.

Raid Lines Damaged

In addition railroad communications were attacked in the industrial areas of Westphalia, the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

Indicating that the British Mediterranean fleet is also carrying the war to Italian shores, it was disclosed that British naval warplanes struck a heavy blow against Italy's base at Cagliari on the island of Sardinia, destroying Italian planes, hangars and other buildings.

A British admiralty communique added that Italian air attacks on British warships off Sardinia were repelled with the loss of at least three and probably four Italian craft.

BERLIN, August 5—German planes sank one merchant ship and bombed shipyards, oil depots and anti-aircraft batteries in the British Isles, the German high command announced in a military communique today.

"The German air force reconnoitered England, Scotland and regional waters," the war bulletin said. "One merchant ship was sunk about 60 miles southwest of Pembroke in St. George channel."

"Last night the air force bombed the Sheerness shipyards and the North Killingholme oil depots and anti-aircraft positions at Thameshaven."

"Some R. A. F. planes dropped a number of bombs on western Germany, causing minor damage and setting fire to a farm in the Borken district. One civilian was killed."

NEW YORK, August 5—A British naval squadron of 19 ships sailed from Gibraltar Saturday in a westerly direction, according to a Berlin radio broadcast picked up by the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York today.

The German radio, citing dispatches from Algeciras, Spain, said the squadron consisted of seven destroyers, two airplane carriers, five submarines three armored ships and two auxiliary cruisers.

NEW AUTO FOG LAMP

CLEVELAND — A new fog lamp, just announced, is similar in construction to the "sealed beam" headlights found on 99 percent of the 1940 automobiles, is an all glass affair, with reflector and lens integral. The filament is not in need of any inner bulb to protect it. The lamp comes with both white and amber lenses.

STOCK MARKET SAGS

NEW YORK, August 5—The stock market sagged today in extremely dull trading. Price changes were small and generally meaningless, however.

Russell Parsons, a spokesman for the Fitts' office, reported that as the result of the investigation, "key persons in movies, politics and labor will be called to explain their connection with the Communist party and their aid to the Communist party."

He said that several witnesses are under guard, "two of whom have been threatened."

In addition to four Japanese held in London, it was disclosed five other Japanese are now in custody—one in Hong Kong, one in Singapore and three in Rangoon.

British reports from Hong Kong said that a Japanese merchant was arrested in the far eastern crown colony under British emergency defense regulations. A Reuters dispatch identified him as Geturo Yamaguchi, manager of the Yamaguchi Company.

Word from Singapore said police at that important British base detained Ishiro Kobayashi, manager of the Japanese Eastern News Agency.

Identification of the three Japanese seized at Rangoon was not completely clear.

A Reuters dispatch from Shanghai quoted the official Japanese (Domei) News Agency as stating that they were business men named Ichiro Orihata, Tadasu Oba and Naoto Kokubo.

Earlier, however, the London Daily Mail said the Japanese embassy in London had identified the trio at Rangoon as journalists, adding:

"We have not been notified regarding the official reasons for their arrests."

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. RIES,
O. S. U. floriculturist

QUESTION: Are you really asked these questions or do you make them up?

ANSWER: Judging from the number of times I am asked this question, apparently many of you feel that I make these questions up. If you could see the number of letters I receive each week you would realize that I do not have to make them up. If in addition to this you could follow me around and attend my various meetings in the course of a week, in a different county each day, and hear the dozens of questions asked, you would realize that these are bona fide questions which have been asked.

Where the questions have been asked by mail I am adopting the policy of giving the initials of the person asking and the town. Where they are asked in meetings, since it has not always been practical to stop and ask "What's your name?" I am listing them without any initials or places.

QUESTION: The back 25 feet of my yard is shaded by a number of small shade trees so that it is difficult to grow grass. What would you recommend that I could plant in this shade besides some of our native wild flowers? —Mrs. S. Elyria.

ANSWER: If you merely wish to cover the ground I would recommend the use of English ivy, periwinkle (myrtle) or even one of the forms of wintercreeper (Euonymus radicans coloratus). All of these would be evergreen. Plants which would not be evergreen but would thrive would be sweet woodruff, Canada violets, common violets, Ajuga and maiden pink or you could use a variety of lower growing shade-tolerant perennials such as hardy primroses, lungwort (Pulmonaria), dwarf bleeding heart, hardy candytuft, or one of the dwarf veronicas.

QUESTION: What broadleaved evergreen would you recommend that I use at the corner of my house that is one story high?

ANSWER: I believe one of the best plants you could use for this would be the evergreen firethorn or Pyracantha. Another possibility, although you would have to pinch it after it got up to the desired height, would be the American holly. If you are in an acid soil section of the state and the place was partially shaded and protected from the wind you would find the rhododendron satisfactory.

QUESTION: There is one corner of my yard with a brick garage to the north and east and with a large soft maple in the middle of it. This is an area only about 15 by 20 feet. Nothing that I plant seems to grow. Could you recommend anything? —Mrs. W. G. Lorain.

ANSWER: If you are willing to water it the first season until the plants become established, I am sure you would find one of the several varieties of the wintercreeper would not only give you an evergreen plant on the ground but would also climb and cling to the brick walls of the garage. You might use the so-called evergreen bittersweet, Euonymus radicans, or the parent type, Euonymus radicans. In the southern half of the state you would find English ivy would give a delightful effect.

QUESTION: I want to put a screen between my perennial border and my neighbor's yard but since my lot is narrow I do not have room for shrubs and feel I do not want to trim a hedge. What vine could you recommend that I could use on a trellis?

ANSWER: Although most people for a trellis of this sort would use climbing roses, or one of the many varieties of Clematis such as Clematis montana, Clematis

one plant to the other. This may be up to 200 feet.

QUESTION: Just what is the value and use of the Dutchman's pipe vine?

ANSWER: The Dutchman's pipe is a fairly fast growing vine with quite large leaves. Usually, if it thrives at all, it produces such tremendously heavy foliage that it serves as a complete screen and windbreak. Consequently, it is confined to those porches where you wish to have screen or to a trellis or fence which you wish to have heavily covered with foliage. It is perfectly hardy. Its flowers, which are underneath the leaves, are, as the name indicates, representative of a Dutchman's pipe.

Delbert Dowden Faces City Court After Sunday Accident

MINOR WRECKS LISTED

Fire Chief Goes To Rural Area To Answer Two Weekend Calls

For bumping into three parked cars as he turned his 1½ ton farm truck south on Court Street from West Main Street, Delbert Dowden, 48, Route 2, Circleville, spent Sunday night in City Jail. Patrolmen George Green and Carl Radcliff who made the arrest, charged him with driving when intoxicated. The patrolmen reported that Dowden struck the car of Don Crago, 22, Amanda, as it was parked on West Main Street near Court, damaging the left front fender. Two other cars, parked on South Court, were bumped, but no damage was done, they said. Dowden remained in City Jail Monday pending hearing before Mayor William Cady.

Two minor traffic accidents were reported Saturday. The car of Maynard Keaton, Haywood Avenue, collided with that of Mrs. Bertha Warner, Xenia, on North Court Street late Saturday afternoon. Patrolman Fred Fitzpatrick reported damage to the fender and exhaust pipe of the Warner car. Julia F. Arledge, of Kingston, drove into the car of Everett Tattman, 40, Route 3, Laurelville, as she attempted to make a left turn at East Main and Pickaway Streets Saturday night. Patrolman George Green reported. The fenders and running board of the Tattman car were reported damaged.

Saturday night Circleville police arrested nine persons on charges of being drunk and disorderly. Elmer Disbennett, 21, Laurelville, arrested Friday for speeding on East Main Street, was fined $10 and costs when he appeared in traffic court Saturday at 7 p. m. Eugene McKenzie, 20, Route 1, Circleville, arrested Friday for the same offense, failed to appear in court and forfeited his $20 bond.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise answered two county calls during the weekend. Smoke from a trash fire along Route 22 just outside the city so obstructed traffic that Chief Wise was summoned to put out the fire. He was called again at 12:30 a. m. Sunday when defective wiring caused fire to break out in a truck on Route 23 two miles south of Circleville. The chief reported damage to the wiring and carburetor of the truck.

Lindbergh Calls For With Eventual Victor

CHICAGO, August 5—To maintain civilization and peace throughout the world, the United States should rearm fully for defense and pursue a policy of cooperation with the victorious nation in Europe—be it Germany or Great Britain—in the opinion today of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Addressing a monster "Keep America Out of War Rally" in Soldier Field yesterday, Lindbergh reiterated that he believes the United States should not become involved in European affairs. But, he added, it is of the utmost importance that this nation "cooperate with Europe in our relationships with the other peoples of the earth."

"It is only by cooperation," Lindbergh asserted, "that we can maintain the supremacy of our western civilization and the right of our commerce to proceed unmolested throughout the world. Neither they nor we are strong enough to police the earth against the opposition of the other."

"In the past we have dealt with a Europe dominated by England and France. In the future we may have to deal with a Europe dominated by Germany. But whether England or Germany wins this war, western civilization will still

ASHVILLE

Word comes from Nolan Murphy, our local high school commercial teacher, who is up at Kent State University taking some additional training in commercial work for which he says this school is outstanding. Said that he had visited the scene of the train wreck at Cuyahoga Falls but five miles from Kent. Said all roads were blocked and traffic tied up within a ten-mile area. Had a good view of the gasoline "doodle-bug" train which carried 43 victims to their deaths.

Police and deputy sheriffs were searching through a pile of debris along the tracks for identification articles and valuables which might be there.

Said too, that he lived on the same street of Governor-Hopes-To-Be Davey, but failed to tell any more about this gentleman he now lives so close to. And about this, is where the "third degree" will get into action soon as "Murphy" lands home. And Supt. Higley who is up in Michigan with his wife and daughter Miss Jane visiting at the home of his sister, sends cards every few days telling of the big fish he is taking.

The Junior ball team, the park play ground bunch, played a Columbus nine (not Red Birds) the other day and won in a close score. The locals play the same Columbus lads here on the park grounds on Friday morning, the 16th and hope for another victory to tell about. The boys composing this baseball (not soft, baby ball) team and the positions they usually play are: Russell Gregg, p.; Dick Messick, c.; Dick Hudson, 1b.; Lawrence Nance, 2b.; Bill Glick, 3b.; Walter Biveus, ss.; Harold Tosca, lf.; Jerry Eccard, cf.; Dene Tosca, rf.; Dale Schiff, Jack Irwin, Charles Pettibone, allround subs. The South Bloomfield boys have a real fast team, too, and usually make it hot for the local youngsters.

Clarence and Mrs. Squire have for their guest this week, their son Emerson of New York City. Have not contacted him yet for even a "short line" about himself and his work there.

Luther Poling, wife and Betty Hunt spent Sunday in Marion the guests of Mr. Poling's mother. Miss Hunt will remain there for a several-day visit. Miss Edna Hunt is visiting at the home of her father this week in Canada, Ky.

The E. A. Snyder relatives here have invitations inviting them to the marriage of James Monroe Snyder and Eleanor Evans in Grace Lutheran church, Columbus, Monday evening, the marriage ceremony to be performed by Rev. Ellis Snyder, a cousin of the groom. E. A. and Mrs. Minnie Snyder and Miss Cleona Dunnick will attend the wedding. This James Monroe Snyder, the partner in this marriage, is a grandson of the late Monroe (Roe) Snyder in the mercantile trade here several years ago and remembered by the older residents.

Another youngster fisherman James Buzzard came in from camp Sunday with a 12½ pound shovel-head cat fish and was hunting someone to make a picture of his catch. But just exactly where he hooked on to this big one he's not saying. The one taken Saturday by the other young fisherman weighed 16 pounds.

Cooperation In Warfare

ization and peace throughout the world as far into the future as we can see."

"But we are often told," he continued, "that if Germany wins this war cooperation will be impossible, and treaties no more than scraps of paper. I reply that cooperation never is impossible when there is sufficient gain on both sides, and that treaties are seldom torn apart when they do not cover a weak nation."

"I would be among the last to advocate depending on treaties for our national safety. I believe that we should rearm fully for the defense of America, and that we should never make the type of treaty that would lay us open to invasion if it were broken. But if we refuse to consider treaties with the dominant nation of Europe, regardless of what that may be, we remove all possibility of peace."

Name-Shouting Flayed
"Nothing is to be gained by shouting names and pointing the finger of blame across the ocean," Lindbergh asserted. He declared that America's "grandstand advice" to England had been neither wanted nor helpful, and said accusations of Germany "simply bring back echoes of hypocrisy and Versailles."

Regarding the chance of America's involvement in the European War, Lindbergh said: "There are still interests in this country and abroad who will do their utmost to draw us into war. Against these interests we must be continuously on guard. But American opinion is now definitely and overwhelmingly against our involvement."

WASHINGTON C. H. ALTERS PARKING, HITS 'DOUBLERS'

WASHINGTON, C. H., August 5 City Manager Edwin Ducey and Police Chief Jack Wolfe, announced Saturday that double parking in uptown Washington C. H. must stop. Such action must be taken so that the flow of traffic will not be retarded any more than it has been by the change to head-in parking, the officials said, pointing to the city ordinance which forbids double parking in any street of the city.

POLICEMAN DIES OF INJURIES IN BUCYRUS FIGHT

BUCYRUS, August 5—Formal charges were to be filed today against John Smith, 26, of Gallion, in connection with slaying of Patrolman Clarence Upson of Gallion during an argument, Prosecutor Leo Scanlon declared. Scanlon indicated he might seek a first degree murder indictment.

The prosecutor declared that Smith struck the officer after Upson protested against his driving an auto because, according to Police Chief Moody, Smith had been drinking. The officer died of a fractured skull received when his head struck the pavement.

RENOVATION OF LAWNS DISCUSSED IN ARTICLE

Florists are often asked how to fertilize a lawn which has been allowed to go unattended or which did not grow well. A heavy application of sulfate of ammonia or nitrate of soda, about 10 pounds per thousand square feet is first used in April or August on lawns containing moss and weeds. This kills the moss and many of the weeds and fertilizes the deeper rooting grasses.

The lawn is raked to remove the moss and dead weeds two weeks after the fertilizer is applied. Ten pounds of 20 percent superphosphate and one half pound of muriate of potash are applied to 1,000 square feet of lawn. The bare spots are reseeded and top dressed lightly with good soil. Then the lawn is thoroughly watered.

Moss and weeds indicate low fertility and do not necessarily mean a sour acid soil; in fact weeds thrive better on a soil containing lots of lime. Lime is not a fertilizer and should not be used unless the soil definitely tests acid.

Incidentally crabgrass can be greatly decreased by proper fertilization. Since it is an annual summer grass and dies out early in the fall in northern lawns, one should fertilize in early September with a nitrogenous fertilizer. Timely fertilizing of this kind is an important item in crabgrass control and should be combined with a sharp reduction in watering if lawn sprinkling is practiced, because watering greatly promotes the shallow-rooting weed.

Delbert Dowden Faces City Court After Sunday Accident

MINOR WRECKS LISTED

Fire Chief Goes To Rural Area To Answer Two Weekend Calls

For bumping into three parked cars as he turned his 1½ ton farm truck south on Court Street from West Main Street, Delbert Dowden, 48, Route 2, Circleville, spent Sunday night in City Jail. Patrolmen George Green and Carl Radcliff who made the arrest, charged him with driving when intoxicated.

The patrolmen reported that Dowden struck the car of Don Crago, 22, Amanda, as it was parked on West Main Street near Court, damaging the left front fender. Two other cars, parked on South Court, were bumped, but no damage was done, they said. Dowden remained in City Jail Monday pending hearing before Mayor William Cady.

Two minor traffic accidents were reported Saturday. The car of Maynard Keaton, Haywood Avenue, collided with that of Mrs. Bertha Warner, Xenia, on North Court Street late Saturday afternoon. Patrolman Fred Fitzpatrick reported damage to the fender and exhaust pipe of the Warner car.

Julia F. Arledge, of Kingston, drove into the car of Everett Tattman, 40, Route 3, Laurelville, as she attempted to make a left turn at East Main and Pickaway Streets Saturday night. Patrolman George Green reported. The fenders and running board of the Tattman car were reported damaged.

Saturday night Circleville police arrested nine persons on charges of being drunk and disorderly.

Elmer Disbennett, 21, Laurelville, arrested Friday for speeding on East Main Street, was fined $10 and costs when he appeared in traffic court Saturday at 7 p. m. Eugene McKenzie, 20, Route 1, Circleville, arrested Friday for the same offense, failed to appear in court and forfeited his $20 bond.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise answered two county calls during the weekend. Smoke from a trash fire along Route 22 just outside the city so obstructed traffic that Chief Wise was summoned to put out the fire. He was called again at 12:30 a. m. Sunday when a defective wiring caused fire to break out in a truck on Route 23 two miles south of Circleville. The chief reported damage to the wiring and carburetor of the truck.

Lindbergh Calls For Cooperation With Eventual Victor

CHICAGO, August 5—To maintain civilization and peace throughout the world, the United States should rearm fully for defense and pursue a policy of cooperation with the victorious nation in Europe—be it Germany or Great Britain—in the opinion today of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Addressing a monster "Keep America Out of War Rally" in Soldier Field yesterday, Lindbergh reiterated that he believes the United States should not become involved in European affairs. But, he added, it is of the utmost importance that this nation "cooperate with Europe in our relationships with the other peoples of the earth."

"It is only by cooperation," Lindbergh asserted, "that we can maintain the supremacy of our western civilization and the right of our commerce to proceed unmolested throughout the world. Neither they nor we are strong enough to police the earth against the opposition of the other."

"In the past we have dealt with a Europe dominated by England and France. In the future we may have to deal with a Europe dominated by Germany. But whether England or Germany wins this war, western civilization will still depend on two great centers, one in each hemisphere."

Agreement Needed

Asserting that a war between the dominant European power and America "could easily last for generations and bring all civilization tumbling down," Col. Lindbergh told the throng of about 40,000 that an agreement between the two powers "could maintain civilization and peace throughout the world as far into the future as we can see."

"But we are often told," he continued, "that if Germany wins this war cooperation will be impossible, and treaties no more than scraps of paper. I reply that cooperation never is impossible when there is sufficient gain on both sides, and that treaties are seldom torn apart when they do not cover a weak nation."

"I would be among the last to advocate depending on treaties for our national safety. I believe that we should rearm fully for the defense of America, and that we should never make the type of treaty that would lay us open to invasion if it were broken. But if we refuse to consider treaties with the dominant nation of Europe, regardless of what that may be, we remove all possibility of peace."

Name-Shouting Flayed

"Nothing is to be gained by shouting names and pointing the finger of blame across the ocean," Lindbergh asserted. He declared that America's "grandstand advice" to England had been neither wanted nor helpful, and said accusations of Germany "simply bring back echoes of hypocrisy and Versailles."

Regarding the chance of America's involvement in the European War, Lindbergh said:

"There are still interests in this country and abroad who will do their utmost to draw us into war. Against these interests we must be continuously on guard. But American opinion is now definitely and overwhelmingly against our involvement."

TRAINING WORKERS

THE industrial training committee of the National Defense Commission is calling leaders of business, labor and government to a meeting to prepare a program for the training of workers in industry. It is understood that for every soldier, sailor and aviator in the nation's defense forces, hundreds of workers will be needed to make their equipment and service their machines.

The committee believes that the first source of additional workers for defense should be the unemployed skilled men. It will find out how many are needed for certain industries and then set about supplying them. There will be training for likely apprentices, restraining of some workers for different jobs, and refreshing of other workers' skills.

All of this seems sensible and practical. The wonder arises, however, that we didn't do it sooner in defense against depression and to stimulate industrial revival.

FAR OFF 1939

THE speed with which events have moved in the last year is emphasized by the New York Times in a comparison of its news columns of last summer and today.

On a July day a year ago, it says, the Times carried only two dispatches from Europe on its front page. One was a two-stick cablegram reporting that King Alfonso was trying to regain his Spanish throne. One from Geneva told of the joint maneuvers, for the first time, of German and Italian troops.

Other matters of interest to newspaper readers that day were the near approach to the earth of the planet Mars, the commercial conversations between Germany and Russia, completion of ten year's trans-Atlantic service by the Bremen, and so on. All the foreign steamship lines were selling round-trip tickets to any European country. War was feared, but not imminently.

Were not those the "good old days"?

GERMAN SPIES CAUGHT

WASHINGTON—The British have done an excellent job of rooting out Fifth Column elements and preventing a repetition of what happened in Norway and the Lowlands. But how hard this is to do was indicated by an uncensored report just received here that as early as July 1 German parachute troops were being landed.

Four were nabbed that day in north Wales. They were not ordinary soldiers. Attired as hikers, they spoke perfect English, carried genuine English registration cards, which could have come only from British sources, and apparently had specific instructions whom to contact.

One of the spies, before being apprehended, telephoned a man who later was discovered to be a Fifth Columnist. The purpose of the parachutists was to get in touch with individuals in England who would furnish them with information and help to undermine resistance against invasion.

It was also learned from the capture of these men that Fifth Columnist fishermen in the region were servicing a Nazi submarine.

MILITARY TRAINING

The Army is up against a much tougher task than most people realize in getting ready for compulsory military training or for the special call of the National Guard.

The main problem is housing such a large number of men. To do this takes time. It takes time to construct barracks, to put in sewerage to bring in water supplies. As much as possible of this work must be done before bad weather sets in.

This is why the War Department is so impatient over the delay in Congress. If the legislation finally passes, then the Army can begin letting contracts. But until then not one order can be placed for barracks or anything else.

All the plans are ready on paper, and the Army has scarcely overlooked a detail in these advance preparations. But that is as far as it can go.

Another handicap is the fact that the National Guard this month is conducting its most important maneuvers in history. And if Congress grants Roosevelt's request to permit him to call out the Guard for a year's training, it will be necessary to send the men back to their homes to arrange their private affairs, then send them back into the field.

This doubles the cost of transportation. If Congress had acted earlier it might have been avoided.

"This meal was an experiment in gastronomic simplicity for most of those who ate it. It illustrates a principle I want to see followed throughout the country—simplicity of menu, entire lack of wastage and jolly company."

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

HARRY HOPKINS and the other members of his third-term managerial committee at the Chicago convention were quite convincing in their fashion of urging James A. Farley to continue his Democratic national chairmanship, but it's very generally believed by politicians that they were pretty sure he wouldn't do it, or maybe they'd have been a bit more careful about asking him to.

Of course it was first-rate policy for them to pretend they were exceedingly anxious to keep him, and inasmuch as they were practically certain he was going to retire, in order to go into the baseball business, there was no reason for them to refrain from doing so.

However, he had been altogether too obvious an anti-third termer to go down well with the "draft Roosevelt" leaders, and everybody who's at all familiar with the situation has known that they were overjoyed at the news that he was about to quit voluntarily. How President Roosevelt himself felt about it wasn't revealed, but there wasn't much doubt as to the views of most of the leading boosters for his re-nomination.

As a matter of fact, vehement New Dealers never have regarded Farley as outstandingly devoted to their philosophy. Still, he wasn't opposed to it. He simply wasn't interested in the welfare of the party bearing the Democratic label, and took the New Deal indifferently—not as an "anti" like some of the old-line Democrats in congress and elsewhere. And the New Dealers, such as Commerce Secretary Hopkins, Interior Secretary Ickes and others, did recognize him as an excellent party manager. So they thought highly of him as their national committee's chairman and had no objection to him in the cabinet.

NOW IT'S DIFFERENT

But that was before the third-term issue became acute and Jim took the anti side of it.

By the Chicago convention's opening day they were classing him with Vice President Garner. They resented his presidential candidacy in part because it aimed at foreclosure against Roosevelt, and furthermore, they opposed the idea of his nomination anyway, on the ground that he isn't a hearty New Dealer—just doesn't care, one way or the other, for anything except the Democratic party label.

They felt also that, in the event of Roosevelt's re-nomination and acceptance, Jim had ceased to be a suitable committee chairman to manage F. D.'s campaign.

Yet getting rid of him, if he'd shown an inclination to hang onto his post, promised to involve the meanest kind of a situation.

Just at that juncture the New Dealers' whole difficulty was solved for them by the revelation that Jim (presumably realizing that he stood no real chance of landing the Presidential nomination) was about to abandon politics altogether.

er, become a baseball magnate, and make some money, his chairmanship and cabinet job not having been a bit profitable to him.

STARS RATHER PHONEY

Thereupon Harry Hopkins and his leading associates called on him on the convention's eve to express the deepest regret at his prospective retirement and to ask him to reconsider it and remain at the head of the national committee.

In the circumstances, cynical practical politicians are saying, the sincerity of these protestations sounds to them mighty doubtful.

All this isn't to say that Jim hasn't plenty of friends who'll genuinely regret his exit from the political scene. He has lots of them all over the country—many of them probably New Dealers. Nevertheless he's been an unmitigated embarrassment to the third term movement's managing group and political skeptics find it hard to believe that they're otherwise than vastly tickled to see him remove himself so peacefully—though doubtless they wish him well in baseball.

From the standpoint of political technique, it's widely agreed that he's a loss to his party's organization. He understands the game to its minutest details, he has an enormous acquaintance and is popular everywhere he's traveled—which includes every corner of the country. Even the third-term New Dealers like him personally.

botched up the defensive play and still got a few points for setting the heart contract, though he should have set it two tricks instead of one.

West led the spade Q to the K and A, then overtook the spade 10 with the J—for some reason or no reason. Deciding his partner might have the diamond Q, he made the fearful lead of the diamond 2. South won and thereafter lost only two more tricks, one in clubs and one in hearts, so was down one.

A safe lead to the third trick, with no such risky guess, would have been the trump Q, unless, of course, South had the club K. But would East have doubled on only the spade A and diamond Q? Wasn't he, a sound player, absolutely sure to have either the club K or a trump honor? In either case a guess in the diamond suit was an unnecessary hazard.

Your Week-End Lesson

What would you bid, as East, with each of the following hands, if South made a dealer's bid of 1-Diamond and the next two players passed? What if, after South's 1-Diamond, West passed and North bid 1-Heart?

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE
AS MR. PARRISH'S grand-daughter asked the elderly man to tell Linda and Robert why he had not taken the elevator downstairs on the night of the fatal shooting, his face paled a little, and his wife raised a hand to her throat.

Women always put their hands to their throats when disturbed, Linda remembered.

"It was nothing, nothing," the man insisted. "We're glad you folk came and I'm happy you aren't held in this, too, Miss Linda."

Linda smiled. Not held in this? Deep in her heart she knew that she was being followed and no clue was left uncovered. More than likely this old man was a blind whom the police were using so she would feel free to come and go.

She knew that Robert shared her apprehension from the way he stepped toward her, took her arm, smiled.

They rode down to the old red brick house which held the two apartments. Neither one spoke much. Once Robert mentioned the sunset and again he asked her if she intended to work much longer.

She noticed a silly hat on a woman's head and called his attention to it. Did people use words, futile, useless words to pass the time when there was nothing, nothing, they could say to each other?

At her door Robert held out his hand and smiled into her eyes. He was so much taller than she was as she looked up. His clasp was warm and tight. Madly she wished that he would kiss her again. Just one kiss—to remember always. But he didn't.

Instead, he said, "I'll send you a postcard from Rio de Janeiro or the Andes."

"I'll send you a postcard . . . just as Ronnie had said, 'I'll call you up from Trieste or Hong Kong or the Hoboken Ferry some night when I'm famous. But Ronnie knew she loved him and Rob knew he had no right to hope."

"Goodbye, Rob, and good luck," she said, and entered the living room.

Caroline was home. She wore a new dress of soft, deep blue and shiny black sandals. Her face was sweet and warm and happy. Only one thing could make a woman like that, Linda reflected, as she tossed her round hat on the long reading table and sent her gloves, in a ball, after it. Love!

"You and Terry . . ." she began.

"Is everything all right?" Caroline sat down on the divan. "It's heavenly! Darling, you could be a bridesmaid, couldn't you—tonight, I mean? You see, we have the license. Terry was able to arrange it all right and we'd like to drive to Connecticut tonight. He's going to have Rob stand up with him. I imagine he's reached him by now."

"Then you've made up?" So swiftly could love's ravages be repaired sometimes, Linda was thinking. "You're sure this is what you want?"

Caroline's gaze was honest and direct. "I know it is. Mina has been trying to see him, literally throwing herself at his feet, and he doesn't want her at all. He could have her—but he wants me."

Pioneer women had started westward with their men, Linda mused, willing to face the dangers of a brave, new world. They had dreamed of homes in an unknown wilderness, as they watched the smoke blowing skyward from campfires at night. But they had spun their hopes in a rugged, homespun pattern. They had no fear that a man would wander, for all the wives who shared the westward and had come far with only faith and one man's love to guide them.

Women like Caroline ran a bigger risk, Linda thought on, as the girl's sweet, light voice confided in her. There were silken, glamorous women ready to lay pitfalls for a dashing publicity man who had a profile and a dash of wit. Caroline was as brave, or braver, than her pioneer grandmothers had been.

A woman who loved a man could forgive him for wandering and let him come home again. Penelope, in the old Grecian tale, had welcomed Odysseus after his years at sea. And women had been doing it ever since.

Linda roused herself from the lethargy that had taken possession of her. The telephone was ringing and she answered it.

Ronald's voice spoke. "Linda, darling, could we have dinner, a light one, before the show? I'm making some recordings after it is over."

"Yes, of course."

The next time the bell chimed Caroline answered it and her voice made lovely, lilting music in the room. "Oh, Terry, darlingest! You got him and he'll go? Good! So will Linda."

What did one wear to be a bridesmaid, Linda mused? Maybe some-

WHITERS HOLDS FAVORED PLACE IN WALKER GO

COLUMBUS, August 5—Johnny Whitters, rugged young Negro heavyweight of Pontiac, Mich., reigned a 7 to 5 favorite today to hand Jack "Buddy" Walker, Columbus negro, his first defeat in his professional career when they meet over a 12-round route tonight.

Arthur Donovan, of New York, internationally known boxing referee, was to act in a dual capacity of referee and sole judge of the affair. Whitters, who lost an unpopular decision to Walker a few weeks ago, was expected to weight in around at 200 pounds and Walker at around 191.

Matchmakers have approached Arturo Godoy, Chilean heavyweight who went the route with Joe Louis, with an offer to meet the winner of tonight's fight.

RACE FOR SPOT BACK OF KASEYS GETS ATTENTION

LOUISVILLE, August 5—With the Kansas City Blues almost a cinch to win the American Association pennant race, attention of baseball followers turned today to the race for second spot.

Both Minneapolis and Columbus recorded double victories yesterday to allow the Millers to maintain their three-game lead over third-place Columbus. The Red Birds had to go 15 innings, with Harry Breechen on the mound, before recording a 2 to 1 victory in the first game. "Red" Barrett held the Colonels to seven hits as the Birds shut them out in the nightcap, 3 to 0.

The two Columbus victories ran the Birds' win streak to 10 straight games. Meanwhile, Minneapolis was turning back Milwaukee, 4 to 2 and 3 to 0. The double win snapped the Millers' five-game losing streak.

Nevertheless, Kansas City continued to make a runaway race of the league bunting. At the expense of the St. Paul Saints, the Blues chalked up successive wins No. 14 and 15 by scores of 8 to 2 and 2 to 1. John Lind recorded his 14th pitching hurling triumph in the opener and Don Hendricks his 13th in the nightcap. The Blues have a 11 and one-half game lead. In the other games, Indianapolis recorded a double victory over Toledo by 7 to 3 and 6 to 5 counts.

WHITERS HOLDS
FAVORED PLACE IN WALKER GO

COLUMBUS, August 5—Johnny Whiters, rugged young Negro heavyweight of Pontiac Mich., reigned a 7 to 5 favorite today to hand Jack "Buddy" Walker, Columbus negro, his first defeat in his professional career when they meet over a 12-round route tonight.

Arthur Donovan, of New York, internationally known boxing referee, was to act in a dual capacity of referee and sole judge of the affair. Whiters, who lost an unpopular decision to Walker a few weeks ago, was expected to weight in around at 200 pounds and Walker at around 191.

Matchmakers have approached Arturo Godoy, Chilean heavyweight who went the route with Joe Louis, with an offer to meet the winner of tonight's fight.

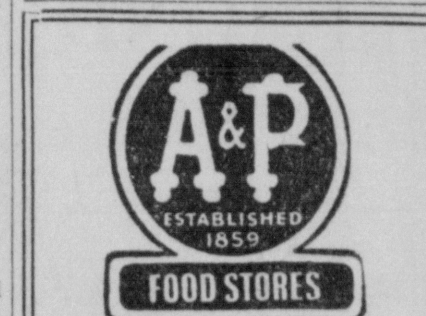

RACE FOR SPOT
BACK OF KASEYS
GETS ATTENTION

LOUISVILLE, August 5—With the Kansas City Blues almost a cinch to win the American Association pennant race, attention of baseball followers turned today to the race for second spot.

Both Minneapolis and Columbus recorded double victories yesterday to allow the Millers to maintain their three-game lead over third-place Columbus. The Red Birds had to go 15 innings, with Harry Brecheen on the mound, before recording a 2 to 1 victory in the first game. "Red" Barrett held the Colonels to seven hits as the Birds shut them out in the nightcap, 3 to 0.

The two Columbus victories ran the Birds' win streak to 10 straight games. Meanwhile, Minneapolis was turning back Milwaukee, 4 to 2 and 3 to 0. The double win snapped the Millers' five-game losing streak.

Nevertheless, Kansas City continued to make a runaway race of the league hunting. At the expense of the St. Paul Saints, the Blues chalked up successive wins No. 14 and 15 by scores of 8 to 2 and 2 to 1. John Lindell recorded his 14th pitching hurling triumph in the opener and Don Hendricks his 13th in the nightcap. The Blues have a 11 and one-half game lead. In the other games, Indianapolis recorded a double victory over Toledo by 7 to 3 and 6 to 5 counts.

Reds At Home Tuesday For Cub, Card Series

CINCINNATI, August 5 — After two torrid weeks on foreign soil, the Reds will return to their own ball yard for a week's stay, during which the tough competition of Chicago and St. Louis will prevent them from taking the time to relax.

The Cubs will open against the Reds at Crosley Field on Tuesday afternoon, then on Wednesday these same Cubs will provide the attraction in the ladies' day event. On Thursday the Cubs will close their Cincinnati visit, whereupon the St. Louis Cardinals will enter for a four game series.

This set of games against the Cards, who currently are the hottest team in the league, will start with a night game Friday, which has been designated as Kentucky Night. Fifteen hundred Kentuckians, guests of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, will be in the stands, in addition to numerous dignitaries, also invited by the Chamber of Commerce. The emblem of the Commonwealth of Kentucky will be featured in the pro-game fireworks display, and the Highland Band of Fort Thomas will play Kentucky tunes.

In addition to all of this, Carthage will be well represented and it, too, will have its band participating in the pre-game festivities, but will not share in the Kentucky events because of being an Ohio unit. The Guth Brothers Post No. 111 American Legion Junior Band will represent the Carthage group.

The Cards will also play an afternoon game Saturday, which will be knothole day, then will engage the Reds in a series, closing double bill Sunday. For this twin bill, 14,000 unreserved seats will be held for the general admission patrons and will not be released until the gates open at the park Sunday morning at 11:30.

Following Sunday's twin bill, the Reds will visit Pittsburgh, Chicago and St. Louis for a week of road warfare.

About This And That In Many Sports

The story of The Tragedy of Billy Hershberger has not been told, and probably it never will be told in its entirety. . . . Baseball fans who have seen the 29-year-old receiver in action, have witnessed his peppery play and his general all-around ability can't quite seem to figure out what, in baseball, could be so tragic as to cause the athlete to cut his throat. . . . By this time everyone knows that Hershberger

BOSTON, August 5 — The body of Willard Hershberger, 29, second string catcher of the National League champion Cincinnati Reds who took his life Saturday, today was enroute to Visalia, California. This was done at the request of the Cincinnati club, acting in behalf of his mother, a widowed school teacher in Three Rivers, California.

He killed himself in his Boston hotel room last Saturday, and there are many who believe that the tragedy will have a very distinct bearing on the title chances of the Cincinnati ball club, although the word has gone out that wily Manager Bill McKechnie is instilling the "let's win for Hershey" cry in his athletes. . . .

The background of Hershberger's death might be traced to a twisted ankle that Ernie Lombardi suffered a week or so ago. . . . Big Lom, as you know, is the Reds' first string receiver; Hershberger subbed for him. . . . With Lombardi out it was up to Hershberger to do the bulk of the catching and to direct the pitching of the Cincinnati hurlers. . . .

Then, came a New York Giant game in which Buckey Walters tossed a couple of home runs that lost a game. . . . Hershey believed that he had called for the wrong pitches. . . . Then the Reds lost a double bill to the impotent Boston Bees, and L. . . . Hershey blamed himself to a large extent for this debacle. . . . But how on earth a ball player of Hershey's ability could think that his death might right all these errors is beyond ye janitor. . . .

His mates say that Hershey had been ill at previous times, that he had lost weight, and that he was worried about his falling batting average although it was still around .300. . . . If a poor batting average could lead a man to suicide, then almost the entire Cincinnati club could start swinging razors. . . . There must be something much more deep, more tragic and more depressing in Will Hershberger's life than a couple of ball games. . . . And still had not Lombardi twisted his ankle throwing the burden on the young fellow the suicide act might never have happened. . . .

FELLER SCORES AGAINST YANKS; REDLEGS SPLIT

Young Cleveland Ace Whiffs Single Batsman, But Gains 3 To 1 Victory

DETROIT'S LEAD CUT

Cincinnati Margin Remains Six And Half Games Over Dodgers

By Ed Kieley

NEW YORK, August 5—It is worthy of note today that Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians' ace heaver, has learned to pitch with his head, as they say in the dug-out, as well as with his arm, and this newly-adopted trait undoubtedly will add years to his Major League career.

Heretofore, Rapid Robert has been foggin' his fireball past batters with unnecessary regularity, causing old-timers to comment that the 21-year-old youngster would soon burn himself out. On some days Feller would strike out as many as 15 enemies and on other he would be as wild as the winds of March.

Recently the youthful speedball king pitched an entire game without issuing a free ticket to first base and yesterday he defeated the New York Yankees, 3 to 1, allowing only five hits and whiffing one man in the entire nine innings.

The victory—his 18th—enabled the Indians to move within a half game of the Detroit Tigers,

On some days Feller would strike out as many as 15 enemies and on other he would be as wild as the winds of March.

Recently the youthful speedball king pitched an entire game without issuing a free ticket to first base and yesterday he defeated the New York Yankees, 3 to 1, allowing only five hits and whiffing one man in the entire nine innings.

The victory—his 18th—enabled the Indians to move within a half game of the Detroit Tigers, who fell before the ancient benders of the venerable Lefty Grove of the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 3. Grove's battery mate, Jimmy Foxx, helped out by slamming his 24th home run of the year.

The Chicago White Sox managed to stay in the first division in the American League although they dropped a twin-bill to the Washington Senators, 4 to 3 and 1 to 0. The first game went ten innings with "Sunday" Pitcher Ted Lyons being the victim of some fielding lapses on the part of his mates. Ken Chase hurled a three-hitter in the nightcap.

Athletics in Cellar

Undisputable possession of last place was the lot of the Philadelphia Athletics for losing two games to the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4 and 6 to 4.

The Cincinnati Reds, saddened by the death of their second string catcher, Willard Hershberger, managed to split a doubleheader with the Boston Bees, the Rhinelanders taking the nightcap, 12 to 9, after the Bees won the opener, 5 to 3.

Cincinnati held its 6½ game lead in the National League as the Brooklyn Dodgers were lucky to divide a bargain bill with the Chicago Cubs. Peeewe Reese's tying four-bagger in the ninth and Dol Camilli's winning homer in the eleventh enabled the Dodgers to gain a 7 to 6 verdict in the second game after Chicago routed the aging Freddie Fitzsimmons to capture an 11 to 3 decision in the opener.

St. Louis and New York ended the long day even-Stephen, the Giants winning the first game of a twin-bill, 3 to 2 and the Cards nabbing the nightcap, 6 to 3. The Pittsburgh Pirates plastered the Philadelphia Phillies with a double defeat, 6 to 1 and 6 to 4.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., August 5—A. B. ("Happy") Chandler, Kentucky's junior senator, won Democratic renomination by a wide margin in Saturday's primary election, almost complete returns showed today.

As tabulation resumed today, Chandler led Charles P. Farnsley by better than 10 to 1, and Smith's nearest opponent trailed by more than 17,000 votes.

Kentucky's nine incumbent congressmen, including one Republican, also won. They are Virgil Chapman (unopposed); A. J. May, Joe E. Bates, Noble Gregory, Edward Creal, Brent Spence, Beverly M. Vincent, Emmet O'Neal, and John M. Robison, the lone Republican.

State Declares County Livestock Free Of T. B.

Pickaway County's cattle, tested by the state Department of agriculture, is free of bovine tuberculosis, according to Dr. Frank L. Carr, chief of the division of animal husbandry of the department.

"The county has been certified as meeting requirements and has been properly accredited," Dr. Carr said.

Since January 1 cattle testing in 24 counties has been completed by the state department.

Tuberculosis testing will get underway in five other counties—Clark, Putnam, Ottawa, Sandusky and Tuscarawas, during September, and is expected to be started in Union County during November this year.

Other counties in which work has been completed this year, and which have been certified are Adams, Champaign, Crawford, Fairfield, Hamilton, Hancock, Hocking, Huron, Lawrence, Madison, Marion, Morgan, Mercer, Muskingum, Perry, Pike, Richland, Seneca, Wyandot, Washington, Williams, Fayette and Greene. Jackson and Highland Counties are expected to be added to this list before the end of the year.

In compliance with the 3-year requirement for testing cattle for tuberculosis, thirty additional counties will be due for this work in 1941.

EMPLOYMENT IN OHIO AREA GAINS IN MONTH'S TIME

COLUMBUS, August 5—Ohio had a June industrial employment increase of two percent, it is reported by Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research.

In addition to being two percent above May, Ohio employment last month was eight percent above June, 1939.

May to June increases amounted to four percent in Youngstown, three percent in Canton, two percent in Cleveland, and Columbus; one percent in Toledo; less than one percent in Akron, Cincinnati and Dayton.

All of these chief cities also had increases over June of last year, the gains amounting to eight percent in Akron, 18 percent in Canton, seven percent in Cincinnati, 12 percent in Cleveland, three percent in Columbus, 10 percent in Dayton, eight percent in Toledo, and six percent in Youngstown.

PERSHING CALLS FOR U. S. TO GIVE AID TO BRITISH

Grave Danger Lurks For Us In World Situation, Chief Of A. E. F. Declares

CONSCRIPTION FAVORED

Army Men Would Send Older Destroyers To Assist Defense Of Empire

WASHINGTON, August 5—Gen. John J. Pershing's warning that "a grave danger for us lurks in the present world situation" and that "we shall be failing in our duty to America" if we do not help save the British fleet, was praised today by the proponents of military conscription and sale of overage destroyers to England.

"I say to you solemnly that tomorrow may be forever too late to keep war from the Americas," the chief of the A. E. F. during the first World War said in a National Broadcasting Company network broadcast last night. "Today may be the last time when by measures short of war we can still prevent war."

In endorsing military conscription, he said:

"We must be ready to meet force with a stronger force. We must make ourselves strong by building up our army and navy and the establishment of the principles of universal selected service, which means merely that the men needed are chosen by lot."

Asserting it was his duty to tell the country "before it is too late," the general said:

"...The British navy needs destroyer and small craft to convoy merchant ships, to escort its warships, to hunt submarines and to repel invasion. We have an immense reserve of destroyers left over from the other war, and in a few months the British will be completing a large number of destroyers of their own."

Few Weeks Important

"The most critical time, therefore, is the next few weeks and months. If there is anything we can do to help save the British fleet during that time, we shall be failing in our duty to America if we do not do it."

He said if a proper method can be worked out, this country "will safeguard her freedom and security by making available to the British or Canadian governments at least fifty of the overage destroyers which are left from the days of the World War."

"The men who are best qualified to know what is going on in Europe and in Asia and in this hemisphere," Pershing continued, "the men whose business it is to know the facts, are very nearly unanimous in believing what I am saying to you... that grave danger for us lurks in the present world situation. So the time has come when we must rise up as a united people to make secure our country's independence and our great inheritance of constitutional liberty."

"If any contributions are made, they will be entirely voluntary," Director Strain also ridiculed the charges as "utterly false."

"As usual," he declared, "Mr. Davey's statement has no truth to it."

"You did it as a low form of dirty politics," he asserted. "Like a sneaky boy, you have falsely charged that another boy was naughty, and now you are caught with your own fingers in the jam."

Bricker denied the truth of all statements in the letter, stating that state employees will not be forced to contribute money to his campaign.

"I have even held a meeting of my cabinet at which this point was made clear," the chief executive asserted. "The best contribution state employees can make is to do a good job."

First Baby At Berger Reaches 10

TED LEWIS HILL

Ten years ago last Saturday—August 3, 1930—the young gentleman shown here was just a tiny tot, but he owned a distinctive honor. He was the first baby born in Circleville's new Berger Hospital.

The young fellow is Ted Lewis Hill, son of Mrs. Lloyd Rhoades, and he is now a resident of Dayton, O.

The hospital was opened in July, 1930, and it was almost a month after the opening date that the first baby was born in the institution. It was an easy matter for the parents of the child to name him. Ted Lewis, born Theodore Friedman, had only recently furnished a nursery at the hospital, and in honor of him Mr. and Mrs. Hill named their baby Ted Lewis.

Young Ted's father died in 1932. His paternal grandmother, Mrs. Martha Hill Anderson, lives at 513 East Mound Street, Circleville.

BISHOP SCORES NATION AS BEING TOO WAR-MINDED

COLUMBUS, August 5—Declaring that the nation is becoming too "war-minded," Bishop James J. Hartley of the Columbus Catholic diocese was on record today as being opposed to military conscription on the ground that it would disrupt national life.

"If we must have a large army," the bishop declared, "it can be done by calling for volunteers."

"It is a serious mistake to enter the home and force our young men into the army by conscription. That is what they do in Europe, and it would be entirely out of harmony with our national life to try it here."

"The call for volunteers will meet any immediate emergency here. Our liberties, our rights and our country face no such danger. By all means, let us try the voluntary plan first."

hearings on the third term issue. Burke has set the hearings for August 12. The excuse is to hear arguments on his constitutional amendment to limit presidential terms to one six-year period. But the private records of the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which Burke is a member, disclosed that he has no authority to hold such proceedings. Here is the inside story of his mysterious move:

It was way back in January, 1939, that Burke introduced the proposal. A few days later he was made chairman of a sub-committee to consider an anti-third term bill and report on it to the full committee.

The subcommittee made a report in July, 1939—just one year ago—recommending that the measure be sent to the Senate without recommendation; that is, the subcommittee ducked taking any stand. In keeping with long practice in cases like this, the full committee thereupon shelved the bill and forgot all about it.

As far as this Congress is concerned, the bill is as dead as a dried mackerel. There isn't the remotest chance of its being considered.

Burke knows this, just as he knows that his subcommittee no longer has any jurisdiction over the bill. It relinquished jurisdiction when it reported to the full committee more than a year ago. Adding a dash of piquancy is the fact that Burke himself is just as much a lame duck as his bill, having been defeated for renomination several months ago.

All of which adds up to the following: A lame duck Senator proposes to use a dead bill over which he no longer has any jurisdiction to stage a series of hearings at public expense to boost a political candidate.

Meanwhile Democratic Senators are betting that the trick won't come off. Burke isn't that good.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Inside fact about Henri Haye, new French Ambassador to the United States, is that no one is very enthusiastic about his appointment. His chief claim to fame is as Mayor of Versailles and as a great friend of Elsie deWolfe and Anne Morgan. He has been angling for the job of Ambassador to the U. S. for some time... Count de Saint Quentin, who now retires as Ambassador, was a sincere believer in democracy and not in sympathy with the semi-Fascist Pétain Government, though he carried out its orders...

Friends of Senator Burke say he has the promise of a high place in the next Republican administration, if Willie wins... One thing to remember about the German-British air situation is that the Nazis so far have made almost no raids at night. They have been sending their men over England in the daytime apparently to spot strategic points and get them familiar with the terrain... The British, on the other hand, have been raiding Germany at night. Night-flying over England will be much easier for the Nazis because they have less distance to travel. So the real punishment will begin when the Nazis start raiding England at night... The German-American National Alliance in Chicago has set out to purge all Illinois Congressmen who are friendly to Great Britain.

ARGENTINE ISOLATION

The difficulties with Argentina which arose in Havana may come up again, so it might be well to look at some of the things that have happened backstage in Pan-American diplomacy.

Strange as it may seem, the great majority of the Argentine people are strong rooters for the U. S. A. This change in public sentiment has taken place chiefly since the New Deal, and because of Roosevelt's Good Neighbor policy. It is no exaggeration to say that Roosevelt's liberal reforms are watched with the closest interest in Argentina, and that he is more popular than most Argentine leaders.

This is true of about 75 percent of the people. The remaining 25 percent, which includes the ruling aristocracy and the big ranch owners, are vigorously anti-Roosevelt.

One notable exception, however, is President Ortiz, who before the Havana Conference opened, was stricken with diabetes, and is not expected to recover. For the time being he has now resigned.

Argentine foreign policy, therefore, is dictated solely by Foreign Minister Jose Cantillo, an old school, pip-squeak diplomat, trained in Europe, who vigorously dislikes the United States. Behind him are some of the big Buenos Aires banks which favor direct dealing with Hitler.

First Baby At Berger Reaches 10

TED LEWIS HILL

Ten years ago last Saturday—August 3, 1930—the young gentleman shown here was just a tiny tot, but he owned a distinctive honor. He was the first baby born in Circleville's new Berger Hospital.

The young fellow is Ted Lewis Hill, son of Mrs. Lloyd Rhoades, and he is now a resident of Dayton, O.

The hospital was opened in July, 1930, and it was almost a month after the opening date that the first baby was born in the institution. It was an easy matter for the parents of the child to name him. Ted Lewis, born Theodore Friedman, had only recently furnished a nursery at the hospital, and in honor of him Mr. and Mrs. Hill named their baby Ted Lewis.

Young Ted's father died in 1932. His paternal grandmother, Mrs. Martha Hill Anderson, lives at 513 East Mount Street, Circleville.

BISHOP SCORES NATION AS BEING TOO WAR-MINDED

COLUMBUS, August 5—Declaring that the nation is becoming too "war-minded," Bishop James J. Hartley of the Columbus Catholic diocese was on record today as being opposed to military conscription on the ground that it would disrupt national life.

"If we must have a large army," the bishop declared, "it can be done by calling for volunteers."

"It is a serious mistake to enter the home and force our young men into the army by conscription. That is what they do in Europe, and it would be entirely out of harmony with our national life to try it here."

"The call for volunteers will meet any immediate emergency here. Our liberties, our rights and our country face no such danger. By all means, let us try the voluntary plan first."

hearings on the third term issue. Burke has set the hearings for August 12. The excuse is to hear arguments on his constitutional amendment to limit presidential terms to one six-year period. But the private records of the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which Burke is a member, disclosed that he has no authority to hold such proceedings. Here is the inside story of his mysterious move:

It was way back in January, 1939, that Burke introduced the proposal. A few days later he was made chairman of a sub-committee to consider an anti-third term bill and report on it to the full committee.

The subcommittee made a report in July, 1939—just one year ago—recommending that the measure be sent to the Senate without recommendation; that is, the subcommittee ducked taking any stand. In keeping with long practice in cases like this, the full committee thereupon shelved the bill and forgot all about it.

As far as this Congress is concerned, the bill is as dead as a dried mackerel. There isn't the remotest chance of its being considered.

Burke knows this, just as he knows that his subcommittee no longer has any jurisdiction over the bill. It relinquished jurisdiction when it reported to the full committee more than a year ago. Adding a dash of piquancy is the fact that Burke himself is just as much a lame duck as his bill, having been defeated for renomination several months ago.

All of which adds up to the following: A lame duck Senator proposes to use a dead bill over which he no longer has any jurisdiction to stage a series of hearings at public expense to boost a political candidate.

Meanwhile Democratic Senators are betting that the trick won't come off. Burke isn't that good.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Inside fact about Henri Haye, new French Ambassador to the United States, is that no one is very enthusiastic about his appointment. His chief claim to fame is as Mayor of Versailles and as a great friend of Elsie deWolf and Anne Morgan. He has been angling for the job of Ambassador to the U.S.A. for some time. Count de Saint Quentin, who now retires as Ambassador, was a sincere believer in democracy and not in sympathy with the semi-Fascist Pétain Government, though he carried out its orders. Friends of Senator Burke say he has the promise of a high place in the next Republican administration, if Willkie wins. One thing to remember about the German-British air situation is that the Nazis so far have made almost no raids at night. They have been sending their men over England in the daytime apparently to spot strategic points and get them familiar with the terrain. The British, on the other hand, have been raiding Germany at night. Night-flying over England will be much easier for the Nazis because they have less distance to travel. So the real punishment will begin when the Nazis start raiding England at night. The German-American National Alliance in Chicago has set out to purge all Illinois Congressmen who are friendly to Great Britain.

ARGENTINE ISOLATION

The difficulties with Argentina which arose in Havana may come up again, so it might be well to look at some of the things that have happened backstage in Pan-American diplomacy.

Strange as it may seem, the great majority of the Argentine people are strong rooters for the U.S.A. This change in public sentiment has taken place chiefly since the New Deal, and because of Roosevelt's Good Neighbor policy. It is no exaggeration to say that Roosevelt's liberal reforms are watched with the closest interest in Argentina, and that he is more popular than most Argentine leaders.

This is true of about 75 percent of the people. The remaining 25 percent, which includes the ruling aristocracy and the big ranch owners, are vigorously anti-Roosevelt.

One notable exception, however, is President Ortiz, who before the Havana Conference opened, was stricken with diabetes, and is not expected to recover. For the time being he has now resigned.

Argentine foreign policy, therefore, is dictated solely by Foreign Minister Jose Cantillo, an old school, pip-squeak diplomat, trained in Europe, who vigorously dislikes the United States. Behind him are some of the big Buenos Aires banks which favor direct dealing with Hitler.
